Rotary Friday Jan 13 Todd Evans, star reporter

Another edition of Jacksonville Noon Rotary kicked off on Friday, January 13, 2006 with the ceremonial ringing of the bell by President Trent Cain. Allen Stare, Amanda Canfield and Bob Hill greeted us. Bob Foulk invoked. John Hill led us through song and Sharon Zuiderveld accompanied on piano.

Allen Stare designed three different covers for our new club directory. In a close vote, the Ferris wheel beat the Gears. Gears won the Electoral College, so despite the choice of the people, Gears is the winner. No, seriously, in Rotary we trust in the people to make the correct choice. Therefore, it is Ferris wheel after all. That little exercise in democracy only took two votes, one Supreme Court decision from Tiffany Warmowski, and then another vote.

Tiffany would like everyone to check their information for the new directory and correct it. Anne Jackson would like to have old Rotary pictures to put in our photo album. Mike Schneider said the need is now for programs. Diana Olinger reminded us to buy/sell tickets for the Valentine dance.

A group of Rotarians were in town for a meeting. Marvin Littleton, Dick Robinson, Ken Buehl, John Forbes and Shirley Johnson. Other guests were the grandkids of Glenn and Diana Olinger, Bailey Ganz with her dad Brian, Dennis Workman as a guest of the club and Cecilia, our hoop shootin' Italian student.

Recognitions were led by Todd Evans. During Rotations Trent Cain said his son-in-law is in Iraq. When he is finished with his tour, he will be leaving the military and moving back to the area. Craig Albers reminded everyone that the United Way campaign could still use your help. Sharon's son is helping clear brush in Alabama in Katrina's aftermath. Ron Tendick invited everyone to the Martin Luther King, Jr. unity breakfast.

Barb Hansmeier and Debbie Richards who are first grade teachers at Franklin Elementary gave our program. They showed us ways to read to first-graders to encourage more Rotarians to help with reading or other projects as part of our partnership with Franklin.

Next meeting January 20, 2006.
