Jacksonville Symphony Concert This Saturday Evening – 7:30pm Rammelkamp Chapel, IC Asking Rotarians to Attend

Saturday evening, September 27, is opening night of this year's Jacksonville Symphony season. The Symphony Board has designated that evening as Rotary Night at the Symphony in part because Ryan Kuster, son of Rotarian Larry Kuster, will be the featured soloist and also because the Honorable Paul Findley (another Rotarian) will narrate Copland's Lincoln Portrait. Everyone knows that Rotarians support their own SO our local Kiwanis Chapter is throwing down the gauntlet. Kiwanis says that it can have more members and friends of the Kiwanis in attendance at the November 1 Jacksonville Symphony concert on Kiwanis night than the Rotary can gather to attend their night in September.

The Rules of the Challenge

1. Attendance points are ONLY earned by the presence of a Rotarian and his or her (paying) guest(s).
2. A single performance ticket price is $12.50.
3. An extra 10 points will be awarded to any club member who purchases a season ticket the night of that group's contest performance.
4. Each evening's point total will be calculated at the end of Intermission the night of each group's contest evening.
5. The winning organization will receive a special award and will be the first organization named to the Order of the Baton. (a very select group)

Other groups will compete for this cherished award throughout the year (except the Christmas concert), however, the first organization to win..either the Rotarians or the Kiwanis will be guaranteed to be the first recipients thereof.
